

K-LOVE Radio is a part of our family's life. As a mom with three children, it is refreshing to offer my children a radio station that will not offend. My children like to sing along with songs that are familiar to them. There are not many lyrics outside of the Christian radio that I would feel comfortable exposing their young minds and heart to. In this country we preach about the importance of education, safety and welfare of the American children. But we have never before in our nation's history so saturated ourselves in sights, sounds and deeds that wear away the moral fiber of these young minds. K-LOVE radio, and others like it, is a step in the positive direction. I know families of all faiths in our community that listen to this station with their children because they know without exception that the programming is appropriate. If we as a nation prioritize the welfare of our young, please do not take away one of the few safe and enjoyable havens by assigning K-LOVE radio to LPFM. Thank you.
